

DCAR Advocacy Day

As DCAR Public Policy Committee Chair Brandon Scott shared: "REALTORS® assembled at the Wilson Building in DC, advocating for affordable housing, access to housing, and building more housing. We all must do our part to move the city forward together. We're DC, and we're better together."

James Braeu, Vice Chair of the Public Policy Committee, added: "Grateful to join a fantastic group of REALTOR® colleagues for Advocacy Day at the DC City Council. Having access to every council member and their offices was a powerful reminder that our voices matter. Proud to stand alongside this dedicated group promoting homeownership and housing in our community!"

A special thank you to the members who participated on this important event. Your time, voice, and commitment continue to make a real difference. Your advocacy is what drives meaningful change in our city, and we're grateful for your leadership.

Late last year, the Council of the District of Columbia passed Mayor Muriel Bowser's landmark RENTAL Act. During the bill's consideration, DCAR led the charge to ensure that the needs of small housing providers were considered and addressed. We advocated relentlessly for months through public hearings, messaging campaigns, and in offices and meeting rooms to build and sustain a coalition for positive change for our industry.

DCAR at the DC Housing Authority Budget Hearing

DCAR is leading an effort to advocate for greater efficiencies within the housing voucher system. Tenants and housing providers deserve a transparent and smooth process. Supporting residents with vouchers can be a success for our smallest housing providers, and we thank our members Conrad Bennet and Carolyn Burns for testifying before the Housing Committee.
